

THE DAILY BULLETIN

MONDAY EVE., JANUARY 12, 1885.

INDIANA's debt is $5,000,000.

Mrs. MYRA CLARK GAINES died at New Orleans Friday.

BROWN COUNTY, O., has two hundred and fifty miles of free turnpike.

The old liberty bell will be on exhibition at Cincinnati, January 24th, on its way to New Orleans.

It is now stated that the amount stolen by Scrugham from the Lexington City National bank will reach $80,000.

JOHN WARWICK DANIEL, of Virginia, has been invited to deliver the address in the hall of the House of Representatives on the day of the dedication of Washington Monument.

It is now unlawful, in the State of Ohio, to kill quail or rabbits, and we are informed the farmers of Brown County have determined to prosecute all persons who violate the law.

The business failures in the United States last week numbered 429, which is far in excess of any previous chronicle for the same period. The increase is largely in the South and West.

It is said that Mr. Arthur will retire from the White House a poorer man than when he entered it. The salary is $50,000 a year. Mr. Hayes is said to have saved some of Mr. Tilden's money during the four years of the former's incumbency.

The report of the State Commissioners of Common Schools of Ohio shows that the average wages of male teachers is given at $50 per month for men and $48 for women. The number of youths of school age in September last was 1,074,557 an increase of only 6,357 during the past year.

This has been a very hard season upon the traveling showmen. The "road" from New York to California and to Texas, is already strewn with the wrecks of disbanded "combinations" and the season is not half spent. It is a struggle for existence in which the weakest must succumb, and as most of the shows are about as weak as can be the number of survivors must be small.

There were 210 failures in Kentucky last year, and the liabilities amounted to $2,063,256. The failures in this State in 1883 numbered 134, and the liabilities amounted to $1,675,727. In 1882 the failures only numbered 131, but the liabilities reached $3,716,036. In 1881 there were 93 failures, and liabilities of $1,083,413. The greatest number of failures occurring in any previous year was in 1878, when they reached 220, with liabilities amounting to $9,057,500.

The Texas Briscoe News says: "Wednesday morning we were shown by Mrs. Ballantyne the handsome silver pitcher that was ordered from Chicago, designed as a present to chaplain M. C. Blaine, U. S. A., as a token of appreciation from his friends in town, of his services in the Sunday school, when stationed at Fort Clark. The pitcher is a handsome one, finely engraved, and inscribed with the Chaplain's initials in German script. The drinking cup and also the receiver is lined with gold; the silver is of the same pattern. The articles were sent from Chicago some time ago, and should have reached here before the Chaplain's departure had not the package miscarried, and they were only received on Monday. They will be forwarded to Chaplain Blaine in a few days."

A Last Resort.

(From Leslie's Cut.)

Algernon.—(time midnight)—Be a way, Mrs. Mand, I have just heard of a curious oriental custom. When a young man, say, 18, falls in love with an amorous-looking beauty, he has a bunch of muskets to the door of her house.

Maud (warily).—It is rather curious, Algernon.—Yes, I wonder it has not been introduced in this country. Perhaps on account of the scarcity of muskets.

Maud (sounding a yawn).—Oh, there will be plenty of that if you should get off with me and come down stairs.

"What! muskets?"

"Yes, indeed."

Algernon left.

Charley Backus, the well-known negro minstrel performer, was in the habit of visiting his old mother, in New Bedford, Mass.

While he was there he would go to church with her regularly, Sunday morning, Sunday afternoon and Sunday evening. One evening a collection was being taken in the Tabernacle, the Tabernacle at the Sandwich Islands. The plate was being passed around and the frugal congregation were putting in their pennies and their ship-plasters, the determined Backus went directly to the offering basket. His mother leaned over in the high-backed chair and whispered:

"Charley, why will you be so extravagant? A quarter was a plenty to put in that box."

"In your mind, mother," said the minstrel, "I play to the Sandwich Islanders next month, and I'll rake in the whole collection."

ROMANCE OF AN ENGINEER.

A Fireman Becomes Stepmother to His Half Brothers and Sisters.

BROOKLYN, Jan. 19.—Engineer Frederick J. Manning, of engine company No. 5, fire department, a few months ago had a stepmother. She is his wife, Mrs. Manning, is about fifty years of age, and his wife just eight years his senior. Frederick had lived a number of years with his stepmother, and his strict attention to duty confined him in the engine house or at fires nearly all the time, and he had no spare hours to visit his wife or the children, and as a result his wife accepted him as a son or marry him. He accepted the latter alternative, and was married in Plymouth church by the Rev. Dr. S. B. Haliday. The happy bridegroom soon found a two weeks' vacation, and had an opportunity to go to Europe with his wife and Manning reported for duty. The happy groom seemed to be entirely satisfied with his choice, and, although somewhat saddened by the vigorous resistance of his stepmother, relented and took the couple along with him. They had a good time, however, and the young couple returned home with him.

The children of Mrs. Manning applied to Justice Walsh for relief, but that astute gentleman, while he could see nothing in the case, could not see any way in which his wife interfered with the man's right to choose his wife.

He accepted the latter alternative, and was married in Plymouth church by the Rev. Dr. S. B. Haliday. The happy bridegroom seemed to be entirely satisfied with his choice, and, although somewhat saddened by the vigorous resistance of his stepmother, relented and took the couple along with him. They had a good time, however, and the young couple returned home with him.

FOREIGN NOTES.

Convention of Irish Bishops—A Medieval Congress in France.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—The approaching convention of the Irish bishops at Rome is likely to witness some knotty discussions on the question whether the bishops of Ireland should follow Archbishop McCloskey and keep out of other powers. The neighbors, who have taken a great interest in the matter, have not been able to come to any definite conclusion as to what precise degree of relationship exists between Mr. Manning and his stepmother and between Mr. Manning and his stepbrothers and sisters.

Killed for an Evil Eye.

PARIS, Jan. 12.—In the department of the Loire, at Saint-Bonnet-de-Arthez, an event has occurred which is worthy of the middle ages. A man named Ravel, was reputed to be a wizard, and was accused of having killed his wife. He was said to have returned home and stabbled and died of his injuries.

Severe gales prevailed on the Mediter- ranean, and the Peninsular and Oriental Liner steamer has been compelled to stay in port.

Indian Leader.

the treatment of the Indians, said that the government was giving Indian lands for grazing to other parties, and was giving them to persons drawn and executed, but he did object to the present form of leases which were unjust to the Indians. Richard M. Wolfe, of Connecticut, said his friends against further injury into the hands of the Indians, the lands were in the absolute control of the Indians, and that the government had no right there. He thought it was to the advantage of the Indians to lease their lands, and there should be no restriction placed upon them.

No license has been obtained, and it will require a two-thirds vote of the electors to suspend the rights of the people. The champion has agreed to fight, and I think he will do well.

Charles G. Jones, of Worcester, Mass., says he is doing his best to induce his trainer to do the same. He will be in condition for the meeting, and that will make a good fight. Meanwhile others of the society for prevention of cruelty to animals will be on hand to see that the fight is fair. If no one else comes forward, they will arrest him. Monday if he appears to fight, there is a warrant against him for cruelty to his horses on the night he assaulted that water girl in a south end saloon.

Aigner Sells her Blue Silk Stockings.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 12.—A train from Evansville via Henderson, Kentucky, to take carrying the Aigner perfume, was delayed at Frankfort, Kentucky, by a snow storm. The passengers had to walk through the snow to get to the county road, where Abner, the French shaper in the lead, and his wife, the French perfumer, were waiting for them.

After crossing the river to take the other train they had to wait four hours in the open air. A house was built in an old cornfield on Avenue with twenty-four trunks. A fire burned in the center of the room, so形成 that was not arrive until two in the morning, and thanks to you, my foot is entirely well, and I am happy.

A Good Show in the Evening.

SYRACUSE, N.Y., Jan. 12.—J. H. Gordon, Syracuse, has formed a company and bought 700 acres of land comprising his father's homestead and leased for ninety-nine years 1,300 acres more in the highlands opposite Newburgh. Mr. Gordon purchased the land in 1860, and it was in the possession of his father until his death in 1870. The rock he has already found silver and gold there. He sent some of the rock to the Mining record in New York to be assayed. Assay showed 225 ounces of silver to the ton, with traces of gold. This rock was not over two feet below the surface. Lodes of it stick out for more than one mile.

Death of Col. Rufus.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Jan. 12.—Col. Samuel Rufus, a prominent citizen of Choctaw county and a member of the legislature, died yesterday. He had Thursday evening a heart disease, aged seventy years. He was a native of North Carolina and related to many distinguished families in the south and other states. Col. Rufus had directed the distribution of his estate among his wife, his mother, his wife's mother, his wife's brothers and sisters, his wife's children, and his wife's grandchildren.

His mother leaned over in the high-backed chair and whispered:

"Charley, why will you be so extravagant? A quarter was a plenty to put in that box."

"In your mind, mother," said the minstrel, "I play to the Sandwich Islanders next month, and I'll rake in the whole collection."

Democrats to Grant's Rescue.

BOSTON, Jan. 12.—The Democratic party here, Edward K. Agar, of New York, was one of the first speakers. In closing his speech he strongly advocated the necessity of doing something for the sake of freedom. He pointed out that the country was in a dangerous position, and that a national disgrace. He hoped that the democracy of Massachusetts would direct its representatives in congress to adopt some measure without delay, that the pressure upon the old soldier may be speedily removed.

Another Orange Outrage.

SRI LANKA, Jan. 12.—Another orange outrage is reported from Ceylon on Wednesday. While Dr. Richard Dunn, a Roman Catholic medical practitioner at Brod Cowe, was on a sick call, he was overtaken by a mob and beaten. He was struck with stones and stabbed him many times, fourteen stabs being found upon him. They also robbed him of everything valuable that he had with him. The case is now before the magistrate.

Miss Mattie Carr, with a view of closing out her entire stock of winter military goods, is offering the lowest prices in the city, which are in many cases below cost.

A very easy way to decipher the date on defaced or worn coins is to heat a piece of metal red hot and place the coin upon it when the inscription and date will plainly appear.

The Ripley Budget says County Court clerkship must be a fat office. Only six applicants in Mason County, Ky. Among the number is our esteemed and worthy friend, John W. Watson.

Persons who design going to New Orleans to attend the exposition can learn price of transportation by river and see a diagram of the cabin of the R. R. Springer by calling on Mr. Charles H. White.

People who buy things should see that all labels are removed. A lady in Cleve land the other day created a great deal of amusement by parading the streets two hours, wearing a cloak on which was a card reading: "Former price, $20; marked down to $12 to close out."

MESSES. OWENS & BARKLEY, in order to close out a lot of pearl, ivory and plated knives, coal vases and fire sets left over from the holidays, are this week offering great reduction in prices. If you need anything of the kind now is the time to supply yourself. Read the advertisement.

The Chicago News says: "Before another polar expedition sets out the members should come to Chicago and ride in our street cars. This would accustom them to act severeities." Mayville, in this respect, is better off than Chicago. The street cars here are provided with stoves and are as comfortable as could be desired, even in the coldest weather.

The following is from the Bracken Chronicle: Judge Garrett S. Wall, of Mayville, is spoken for the office of United States District Attorney. He would make an admirable one. A gentleman of wide experience, and a lawyer of unquestioned ability, he would command the respect of all, add dignity to the office and fill the position with credit. We hope that he may secure the appointment.
